These additional appointments have been officially announced:

Mr. Edward Clarke, Q. C., Solicitor-General.
The Hon. J. Bruce Curwood, Secretary to the Admiralty.
The Hon. Sir Ashmead Basset, Civil Lord of the Admiralty.
The Hon. Sir John, Political Secretary to the War Office.

The Daily News suggests that a committee be formed of the leading statesmen of the House of Commons, to be charged with the duty of discussing the best form of home rule for Ireland, which, the News says, no reasonable person could deny to be the only way of settling the Irish question.

The incoming and outgoing Ministers have gone to Osborne Castle to see the Queen. The latter will, it is understood, be accompanied by the new Ministers will be intrusted with them.

Mr. Balfour is expected to deliver a public address to his constituents, on reflecting the views of Lord Salisbury. Mr. Balfour says:

people are unalterably opposed to any loosening of the bands knitting the United Kingdom. In spite of the fact that the difficulties which have beset Mr. Winston's recent action have made it already difficult for the Government to pursue a policy just to every interest of Ireland and generous to every legitimate Irish demand, the Government will stand firm in the execution of the law while striving to remove the chief evils which Ireland suffers.

The members of the Gladstone Ministry surrendered their seats of office to-day to the new Ministers. The members of the two Ministries will continue to work together until the new Ministry will remain a guest of the Queen until to-morrow.

HARD TIMES IN ENGLAND DUE TO FAILURE OF THE CROPS—Stimulating Foreign Trade.

LONDON, AUG. 3.—The final report of the Commission appointed to inquire into the causes of the depression in trade will soon be issued. The report will announce that the Commission has not found any evidence of depression as far trade has increased more than commensurately with the growth of the population. Low prices, and the consequent diminished profits, constitute the only evidence of depression. There has been a greatly prolonged period of unsettled conditions, and a consequent loss of wealth. The Commission does not believe that legislation regarding labor has injured trade, and deprecates an increase in the number of hours of labor and a further restriction of the right of employers to employ their own men. The Commission considers the failure of agricultural production the main, if not the sole, cause of the diminution of the home trade, which, otherwise, the Commission believe would be in a satis-

The conclusion of the working classes the report says, has been improved in the last twenty years. Competition both in the home and the foreign trade is greatly increased, especially as regards Germany, whose trade is improving and pressing England closely at home and abroad. The Commission recommends that the British Consular report more frequently and press that British factors adapt their manufactures to the necessities of foreign markets, in which respect, the Commission says, Germany excels.

LORD ABERDEEN'S FAREWELL

All Dublin Abroad to Honour Him—The Lord

DUBLIN, Aug. 3.—The farewell levee given by the Earl of Aberdeen and his wife at Dublin Castle today was attended by a large number of members of the Irish National League. The streets of the city are profusely and beautifully decorated in honor of the departing Viceroy, and an enormous crowd of people is assembling from all parts of the country to tender the Aberdeens a fitting occasion when they take final leave.

unbounded. The process was a gorgeous affair, the trade guilds coming with each other in display. Lord Mayor Sullivan asked Lord Aberdeen to describe the scene to the Queen, and to tell her that "this was a pale forecast of the reception she will receive when she comes in person to restore to Ireland her ancient right of self-government."

The address of the corporation to the retiring Viceroy declared that nothing short of Mr. Gladstone's measure would satisfy the Irish people.

Heidelberg's Jubilee.

HEIDELBERG, Aug. 3.—The Crown Prince opened the celebration last night. He congratulated the present and former members of the great university upon their possession of a share in the glorious record of Heidelberg. The university had, he said, maintained through many vicissitudes the foremost position in securing religious liberty and the right of scientific inquiry. The university had also led in the work of fostering the growth of the empire, and the work which was being done throughout the world and at home.

the Prince for the maintenance of the ancient virtues of our race and for the exercise of greater prudence, self-denial, and moral discipline in order to promote the happy development of the liberal spirit of the national life of the German people."

His Excellency, the Duke of Baden, as rector of the university, responded to the address of the Crown Prince. In the course of his remarks he expressed his great satisfaction that the Prince had shown interest in the public life of the university by dedicating to the institution a valuable scientific gift.

BELFAST, Aug. 3.—The Mayor of Belfast has sent a circular letter to the magistrates of the city asking them to exert their influence to promote a better feeling among the people toward the police, so that there may be co-operation between the latter and the populace for the prevention of disorder. Crowds of men are assembling in different parts of the city, ostensibly bent on fighting the police.
